Open letter of the president

The title of SOKE

Yesterday, today and tomorrow as always, from morning to night, we are reading about some new Soke. We have carefully estimated this fact, we are obliged to read on many different means of communication, about many imposters. This letter is expired by these choices.

The Traditional Japanese schools (ko-ryu), are normally represented by a Soke (Patriarch, Successor).

Is not important which school (Ryu-Ha) we are speaking to, everyone has the top one Soke, in order to be considered as a ko-ryu (old school)

Now days there are people who get up in the morning and would like to manage or represent a classic school, without having really a title of Soke.

This proves their ignorance about Japanese tradition, large audiences that are a little bit suspicious about this wasteful increasing of levels.

In Japan, the highest level could be transmitted following a familiar lineage, and the title of Soke is not different. As also, the first student ichi ban, that creates one school out from the original one, it could take the title of dai-shihan or better do-shu, (protector of the school)

The role of the Soke remains today, to control the absolute rules of the school have been respected. The designed person has to have a document (sodensho), signed by the previous Soke, of which the transmission of the makimono, the teaching rota, is done by a particular ceremony, called densho-shiki (densho = certificates; shiki = level, passage).

Otherwise it could be as declaring duke (from latin dux = commander); duke (from latin comes o comit = companion). There are many titles of soke, I' m detailing some, starting from my title of Shike (master of the family).

That title, has been recognized by a Soke/patriarch who has got some menkyo kaiden. In addition of the title I have got/received " 3 kaiden-no-makimono" (rolls of teaching) and it demonstrate that the title (sodensho) is effective and above any doubts.

Seitoh-soke (legal Soke), based on an obliged passage made by the family/clan/scuolabus (ha)

- Senso-soke (pretender to the role of Soke-ship) determined by the previous Soke to succeed, by an oral awarding, in front of the students of the school without getting documents.

- Jishou-soke (proclaim alone) without having the makimono, letters of transmission and something else. He has not any docs proving his title; only one technical level.

There are in the kobudo other 3 specifications:

- jutsu-yurushi (licence for a particular charismatic personage with one relative menkyo kaiden)

- giri yurushi (licence for social obligations)

- kame yurushi (license by paying)

In the gendai-budo, budo modern/sport, there are some titles of doshi/renshi/kyoshi/tatsushi/hanshi

Where are we of the Wjif/Wjiko? By the disappearing of Jimmy Blundell (UK) Soke of the Juko-ryu; Robert Clark (Bob), got the title of Soke Dai which had to be ni-dai (the second).

Even if we should have written, more truly do-shu, protector of the school, but who could have understood? After the passing away of Robert Clark the only one, that could have had the title was and is, to him granted by voice (senso-Soke) only the undersigned, the highest in level in that date (February 2012) and with already a Japanese title of Shike, with the relative originate makimono, on the shoulders.

I have preferred to maintain the title of Shike (25 April 2005), in order not to incite some controversial and internal problems.

All the other "Soke" that we are reading on various sites, are born from nothing, they should be inserted in the list of five categories relative to me: the half men, the little men (with respect) pigliainculo and the quaquaraquà... a very few men, the half men really few; I' d be really happy of the humanity should stop at the half men.

In reality no, it is descend lower, to the little men: which are like the babies who believe they are great, monkeys that are doing the same gestures of the adult, and more: the " piglia inculo ", which are becoming an army... and least the quaquaraquà: that should live as the ducks in the puddles, that their life have no sense and more expression of those ducks.

I have paragrafato a gerat Italian writer Leonardo Sciascia.

Everyone could make the appraisals on the above mentioned, a result of news taken from Japanese documents and on what the great essayist Sciascia is remembering us.

In order to make more credible the eventual title of Soke (gendai budo, budo modern) it has been done an International choice, by the creation of the World Jujitsu Confederation (30/7/2013) member Tafisa, " sport for all ", (Coi), so officialise of the title densho.

Our " respectable " diplomas are recognised by a great number of International bodies and notoriously also from the Wjic, member Tafisa (Coi) of which the acronymic and logo are at the end of every technical documents.

The " respectable ", titles (fuko shidoin etc.) are determined for the teachers in function of the technical level and from the experience in teaching. These titles are recognized all over the world for the disciplines autochthones:

Fuko shidoin from sandan 3 years of teaching. Fuku= vice Shidoin Sandan from sandan 5 years of technical teaching and indicate the head instructor of a dojo= the man who starts the way"

Shihan-dai Yondan from Yondan 10 years of training (do-shin) " the man to imitate"

Shihan Godan from Godan 10 years of training.

Syuseki-shihan the highest level among the Shihan - 30 years of training.

The levels Renshi/Kyoshi/Hanshi are the passage every two years of the level 6° dan to reach the sixth year, minimum with the level of Hanshi, the chance to pass 7°/8° dan-menjio.

Giacomo Spartaco Bertoletti, 5° Shike of the school Koden ENSHINRYU Honmon ENSHINRYU-BUJUTSU President (Kaicho) Wjif/Wjiko.

The Samurai woman

Banzai International 1987 January, By Robert Clark

A thought provoking characteristic of most ancient cultures is the predominant role played by women in the history and direction by women in the shaping of history.

The Spaniards in their conquest of South America discovered a race of female warriors, namely the Amazons, whose legendary prowess in the arts of warfare are well known.

Ancient Sagas and the work of anthropologists, have discovered that throughout the world, woman have played a role in the wars that were a commonplace occurrence in ancient times, from ancient Sparta, from Northern Europe, from Egypt and Mesopotamia, to Steppes of Mongolia, and the many clan cultures of Japan and China.

According to Historians, the chronicles of Japanese history

are filled with the exploits of Warrior Queens leading their troops against enemy strongholds in the land of Yamato, or across the Straits of Korea.

The Nippon Dai Budo - Kai International Federation whose headquarters are at Kyoto in Japan, have recently appointed the daughter of Hayabuchi Reushi who was until recently Grand Master of the order, and 17th Soke, whose family were military teachers to General Honda Tadakatsu, who was supreme military commander to Shogun Tokugawa in the year 1950.

The Kai originally known as Dai Nippon Kentenshiva Ryu was founded in 1559 by the Minamoto family of Hyogo Ken at Kobe, and for the past 428 years their specialities have included Yari, Ken Jutsu, Bō Jutsu, Naginata, Aiki Jutsu, Iai Jutsu, Shuriken, Kempo and Ju-Jitsu and their skill expertise in these arts were of paramount importance to the Shogun, and they were frequently called upon to demonstrate their prowess, and to stir the patriotic fervour of the Japanese by singing the Id Samurai War songs (shigin) Prior to any battle this school was predominant in the demonstration of martial arts throughout Japan, and especially during the Chinese-Japanese war of 1904 which led to the resurrection of the "Bushido" spirit of the Japanese people which had lain dormant since the peaceful Meiji Period.

After the Second World War it was decided by the Nippon Dai Budo Kai to open a school for a selected few who were then initiated into the Bushido tradition, and it is from these beginnings the Kai has attained its present high standing.

The Nippon Dai Budo Kai International Federation are at present making arrangements to welcome Kioko Riso Hayabuchi to Great Britain within the next year, and hopefully her father the 17th Soke 9th Dan Hayabuchi Reushi, who is now 79 years of age.

It is with the foregoing in mind, that it is only right and proper that the Samurai Woman and all women participants in the martial arts receive the recognition they so rightly deserve.

The Samurai Woman was trained to be as loyal and totally committed as her father to their immediate superior in the clan hierarchy and like her male counterpart, was expected to carry out every assignment, including those that called for the use of arms, therefore it is not surprising to find in the chronicles of Bu-Jitsu the comments, that women of the Buke were trained in the use of traditional weapons, which they were expected to use against and enemy, and if necessary in so doing end their own lives.

Amongst the weapons the Samurai Woman handled with skill was the Spear, both the curved (Naginata), and the straight (Yari) they were also competent in handling the short dagger (Kaiken), which like their male counterpart's Wakizachi, was always carried on her person (generally in her sash or sleeve) and which she could employ against armed foes in close combat. The same dagger was the one a Samurai Woman would use if she undertook to commit ritual suicide, not by piercing her abdomen, as would her male counterpart, but by cutting her throat in accordance with the Rules of Ceremonial Suicide, this act was known as Jigai and in feudal Japan was as common place to her as it was her men folk.

Some households in present day Japan maintain the ties linking them to the feudal past, many women bring up their families beneath the aristocratic shadow of the family "Kami" - an ancient suit of armour, before which sticks of incense burn day and night many of their sons enter the military academies of Japan, while their daughters train at the Dojo, where the ancient art of Naginata Jutsu is taught to them as well as to other girls or lesser military ancestry but of equally intense attachment to the tradition which produced the Samurai Woman.

Martial arts celebration in Idanha-a-Nova/ International Super Seminar Portugal 2014

By Jon Berry

Idanha-a-Nova was once again the assembly point for a broad and varied group of martial arts practitioners when the town in Central Portugal hosted the National Portuguese Ju-Jitsu Federation's (FNJP) annual seminar on 24 May. The event attracted almost 300 students and an impressive list of highly qualified instructors from all over Europe.

The annual FNJP seminar is always popular, and this year was no exception. The long list of instructors featured exceptional and highly talented budoka including Soke, Auvo Niiniketo (10th Dan) from Finland, Soke Leif Hermanson (10th Dan) from Sweden, Shike Bertoletti (9th Dan) from Italy, and Paul Hoglund, President of the World Ju-Jitsu Confederation (WJJC). As a result, it was no surprise to see that practitioners of all ages had made the trip from all parts of Portugal – and, indeed, many other countries in Europe – to benefit from this rare opportunity to train with the elite.

President Office

The seminar started on a sad note, however, as the assembled company held a minute's silence in memory of Duarte Torrão, a young student who tragically lost his battle with cancer earlier this year. Just five years old, Duarte passed his first grading last December and was due to take the test for his yellow belt at the seminar. To honour his memory, Shihan Helder Nunes, President of the National Portuguese Ju-Jitsu Federation, presented Duarte's parents with the belt that their son would surely have earned at the grading. It was an emotional moment which left everyone deeply moved.

The seminar then commenced in earnest, with the various instructors being allocated to seven different areas of the hall to give different groups of students a taste of their own particular arts and styles. The hall was soon buzzing with interest and excitement, as the students got to grips – quite literally – with new techniques and new approaches to dealing with unwanted attention and potentially threatening situations.

As ever, the overriding atmosphere at the seminar was one of deep respect and camaraderie. "We have people here from taekwondo, hapkido, ju-jitsu, kobudo, karate, krav maga, kick-boxing ... allowing people to get together in the same place, on the same day, on the same stage without battles, without division and without any problems at all," explains Shihan Helder Nunes, highlighting the aspect of martial arts as "the great leveller".

While some people have the impression that martial arts are violent and dangerous, nothing could be farther from the truth. "Ju-jitsu isn't simply 'a simulated violence sport'," emphasises Hanshi Risto Vantar (8th Dan) from Finland, "it depends how you work with it and use it. It's in the mind. Everybody who is training here has very good discipline."

Shihan Helder Nunes agrees: "One thing is politics, another is martial arts," he says. "We love what we do, and we don't bring our outside problems to the tatami. This is a very good way to make peace."

He goes on to stress that the whole point of the seminar is to unite people: "The sheer number of people present, during the time of austerity in Portugal and throughout Europe, demonstrates how martial arts can bring people from different backgrounds together in harmony. We have assembled people from all over the country and – this is important – during a time of crisis, of panic, when people really don't have much money, you only need to look around and see the effort that these parents are making, that these instructors are making, that the people who turned up here today are making, to allow us to make this great event a reality."

At the end of the morning session, the seminar broke for lunch with everyone – instructors and students alike – enjoying the same simple fare. This was yet another illustration of how the world of martial arts places great emphasis on humility and equality. "One of the first things we all learn as martial artists is to leave our egos at the door," explains Shihan Helder Nunes.

The afternoon session began with a series of demonstrations, with students from the clubs of Tavira and Cacela in the Algarve presenting a range of fundamental and more advanced techniques, Sensei Dana Ehleiter showing off her appreciable skills with the long staff (bo), Soke Leif Hermanson providing a glimpse of the noble art of iaido, and Shike Bertoletti putting on a spectacular kenjutsu show.

It was then time for more training on the various mats, and the students took full advantage of the opportunity to train with the very best of the best. As the seminar drew to a close, both students and instructors could be spotted exchanging contact details and promises to train together again in the future to keep alive the legacy of mutual respect and discipline that distinguishes the world of martial arts.

Once again, the seminar could not have been possible without the kind support of the Municipality of Idanha-a-Nova, whose president and staff went the extra mile to provide not only the physical setting, but also the surrounding infrastructure to make the whole undertaking possible. Shihan Helder Nunes was fulsome in his praise for the local support: "It's not the first time we're here, and I dare to say it won't be the last. The people here provide fantastic support for our art. They are quite simply sensational. I'd like to take this opportunity to express our heartfelt thanks to the Municipal Council of Idanha-a-Nova, to the President of the Council, his magnificent staff and all the other people who have helped us. It is they, together with our instructors from this region – whom I would also like to thank – who make it possible for us to hold this event."

The organisers would like to thank all the instructors who took the time to travel to Portugal to be present at the seminar:

Battles and passions Carrara 6 al 8 June 2014

The seminar of the "coalition" Wjif/Italy has been a success of co-operation, image, and promotion and development of the jujitsu.

We immediately say, that the merit has to be done to the tree of Stefano Draghi, Guido Nicoli Mirko Di Cristofaro.

The wars, at least, are taking illusions of grandeur and honour. At the base of a war there is always the idea that one of part is inspired by high ideals and by some honoured intent and is pushed to defend and protect something of precious.

For us the image of my "travel companion" Soke-dai Robert Clark (1946-2012).

For this reason it has been founded and already registered in date 7 May 2014 Company Number 9028671, the "Foundation Robert Clark" (Gsb and Beryl Miao) by Official letter made by "Family", Jennifer Jenny and Beryl Clark.

I'm not a new Lancelot of the lake (remember that the mythical Camelot is in the area of Liverpool), but I believe strongly, always, in the things I'm doing.

But it is not this I want to talk.

Carrara has had "7 samurai" (Shihan) in order of Nationality:

- Austria Gunter Painter
- Bulgaria Kamen Radev
- Hungary Tamas Smaraglai
- Ireland David Toney
- Israel Amir Barnea
- Russia Alexandr Bryuzgin
- UK Robert Hart

The common effort made by the Italian association members Wjif/Wjiko, and for whom did not go, as for the Soke Maurizio Silvestri, he was busy with his "Zen Cup" (Livorno 8 June 2014).

I do not want to add anything else but to thank the teachers/Shihan who made their contribution in addition to the three ones already mentioned: Andrea Colombini, Daniela De Pretto, Roberto De Ronzi, Livio Cesare Proia, David Gobbi, and Gianni Ronchini

Our next meeting of the "coalition" Wjif/Italy for 2015 will it be in the South? Why not?

Thanks Carrara!

Grazie, Italia!

It was 11 p.m. when our plane was over Milan. In the darkness the city spread on the ground. Its lights looked like huge glowing spiders. Near the city thunderstorm was raging in the sky and vivid flashes of lightning fascinated by their power.

So Italy met us.

Italian language was so beautiful, melodious and pleasant for ears. One of the first Italian words immediately remembered was "Grazie" ("thank you"). In Russian it consonants with word "Grace", that means elegance, beauty in motion...

We were given a warm welcome.

Grazie Giacomo Spartaco Bertoletti!

On the seminar Russian team was represented by Shihan Alexander Bryuzgin (5 dan, Moskow), Alexander Kravchuk (5 dan, Murmansk), Alexey Gukarin (1 dan, Igevs), Natalia Egorova (Murmansk). Organization of the seminar was excellent.

Grazie Stefano Dragi and all dear organizers!

We visited Guido Nicoli's school in Carrara, it was an excellent impression.

Grazie Guido Nicoli!

Communication with Italian instructors gave us great pleasure. Their attitude was very hospitable and friendly Grazie Mirko Di Cristofaro, Andrea Colombini and many others!

The workshop began very unusually with a workout on the beach. It's impossible to forget! On the second day there were competitions and demonstrations.

Shihan Alexander Bryuzgin (5 dan, Moscow), Russian respected and competent instructor, was in the International commission.

The participants from different countries showed their skills and exchanged their experience, that enriched our knowledge and skills.

Grazie the participants! Grazie the International Commission!

Galla diner helped us to become closer to each other.

Grazie Friends!

On the last day of the seminar the participants were received awards. Then there was the final workout, which gave an opportunity to train at instructors from 8 countries.

It was unforgettable experience of acquiring knowledge.

Grazie Masters!

On the final day of the seminar during the solemn ceremony our delegation stalked when the anthem of Russian Federation was played.

It was very pleasant for us that there was our Russian sportsman Alexander Bryuzgin among Shihans and in the International Commission.

Grazie Alexander!

We will always remember this grand seminar, interesting competition, contacts with enthusiastic people, beautiful nature, sea, sun and mountains...

Grazie Italia!
